

MINOR IN MUSEUM STUDIES

Curious about what really happens in a museum?

Interested in what kind of jobs museums offer? From art and culture to history and science, museum studies is an interdisciplinary field that explores the world of museums and all they encompass: collections, exhibitions, education, archives, research, and more.

Includes courses related to museums and their functions from Art and Art History, Anthropology and Sociology, Classics, History, and Southern Studies and a partnership with the University of Mississippi Museum.
